BARUCH COLLEGE

The University

Baruch College is one of eleven senior colleges of the City University of New York (CUNY), the largest urban public university in the nation. The college's history began in 1847 when The Free Academy, the nation's first tuition-free public college was established. In 1919, the School of Business and Civic Administration was established as part of the College of the City of New York and in 1953 was renamed the Baruch School. In 1968, Baruch College became an independent senior college.

Baruch College offers undergraduate, graduate, and Ph.D programs of study leading to BA, BBA, BS, DBA, MA, MBA, MPA, MS, MEd, and MSILR degrees through the Zicklin School of Business, the Mildred and George Weissman School of Arts and Sciences, and the Austin W. Marxe School of Public and International Affairs. Prior to the fall 2000 semester, the College also offered the BS in ED degree.

ACCREDITATION

Baruch College is accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. The Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Commission on Recognition of Postsecondary Accreditation. The baccalaureate and the master's programs of Baruch College's Zicklin School of Business are accredited by AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. In addition to the business programs accreditation, both the undergraduate and graduate accountancy curricula have been awarded the accounting accreditation from that accrediting body. The master's programs in public administration of the Austin W. Marxe School of Public and International Affairs are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA).

DEAN'S LIST

To be eligible, a full-time (minimum 12 credits) matriculated student must earn a term grade point average of at least a 3.50. A part-time matriculated student must earn a term grade point average of at least a 3.50 on 12 credits in two consecutive terms (not including overlapping terms). P grades and credits are not included in the calculation (Effective spring 2017).

GRADUATION HONORS (Effective Fall 2004- present)

- Summa Cum Laude 3.85 – 4.00
- Magna Cum Laude 3.75 – 3.84
- Cum Laude 3.50 – 3.74

Students must complete at least 56 credits at Baruch College.

FORGIVENESS POLICY

Effective fall 1990, undergraduate students may replace a maximum of 16 credits of failing grades if the same courses are repeated with a minimum grade of C. Will not retroactively affect pre-existing academic status.

Effective fall 1990, graduate students may replace one failing grade; if the repeated course is a minimum of a B-.

GRADING SYMBOLS

Grades which have been replaced by the repetition of the course under the Forgiveness Policy are shown as #F, #FI, #FA, #FP, #WU, #WN and #WF effective through Fall 2014. Grades preceded by the symbol * (e.g.*A) are not computed in the student's grade point average and are not calculated in the credits earned toward the degree.
